

Introducing the 2022–2023 mentors

GLODERM Mentorship Programme

Toby Maurer

USA

Toby is a Professor of Clinical Dermatology at Indiana University. She is currently leading the global health programme for AMPATH and working with refugee communities worldwide.

Toby is mentoring Doriane Sabushimike.

Esther Freeman

USA

Esther is Chair of GLODERM and Director of Global Health Dermatology at Massachusetts General Hospital, Harvard Medical School. She has worked to improve healthcare in sub-Saharan Africa, Latin America, and southeast Asia since 2003 and has worked with the World Health Organisation.

Esther is mentoring Marlous Grijzen.

Kari Wanat

USA

Kari is an Associate Professor at the Medical College of Wisconsin, where she practices complex dermatology and is the Residency Program Director. She is passionate about increasing access to dermatology care to underserved populations through global health, tele dermatology and medical education.

Kari is mentoring Luisa Polo Silveira.

Wingfield Rehmus

Canada

Wingfield is head of pediatric dermatology at British Columbia Children's Hospital. Her team also works with a social pediatrics network which is embedded into the local community to support children and families living in vulnerable situations.

Wingfield is mentoring Gaylord Inena Wa Inena.

Archana Singal

India

Archana has been teaching in a medical college and government hospital that caters to the poor and economically underprivileged population of India for over 25 years. She is passionate about tropical dermatology.

Archana is mentoring Yared Mekonnen.

Roni Dodiuk-Gad

Canada

Roni is head of the Inflammatory and Autoimmune Skin diseases Unit, Dermatology Department in Emek Medical Center, and head of the Dermatology Programme in Bruce Rappaport Faculty of Medicine, Technion - Institute of Technology, Israel and an Assistant Professor at the University of Toronto, Canada.

Roni will be mentoring Jose Ollague.

Claire Fuller

UK

Claire has been a consultant dermatologist for more than 20 years and is based in London. Claire is currently Chair of the International Foundation for Dermatology and Vice-Chair of GLODERM.

Claire will be mentoring Lucia Fernandez.

The International Alliance of Global Health Dermatology (GLODERM) is excited to announce the first year of the GLODERM Mentorship Programme and introduce the seven mentors in 2022 – 23. We are grateful to CeraVe for their unstinting support of the programme.

For more information on the programme and GLODERM

Visit gloderm.org

GLODERM

International Alliance for Global Health Dermatology